" In my opinion, and its truth, my truth, but not The Truth, we should all take the high ground.

I see myself as a human being first, not defined by the color of my skin, my religion, where I come from, how much money I have, or my political persuasion. I have all the flaws and greatness that being a human being implies. I know I am deeply flawed because I come from a world that is deeply flawed. But also I know we are holy beings and deserve compassion and love for all that we are. "

Mr. Sid's
past

Who Knows ? him

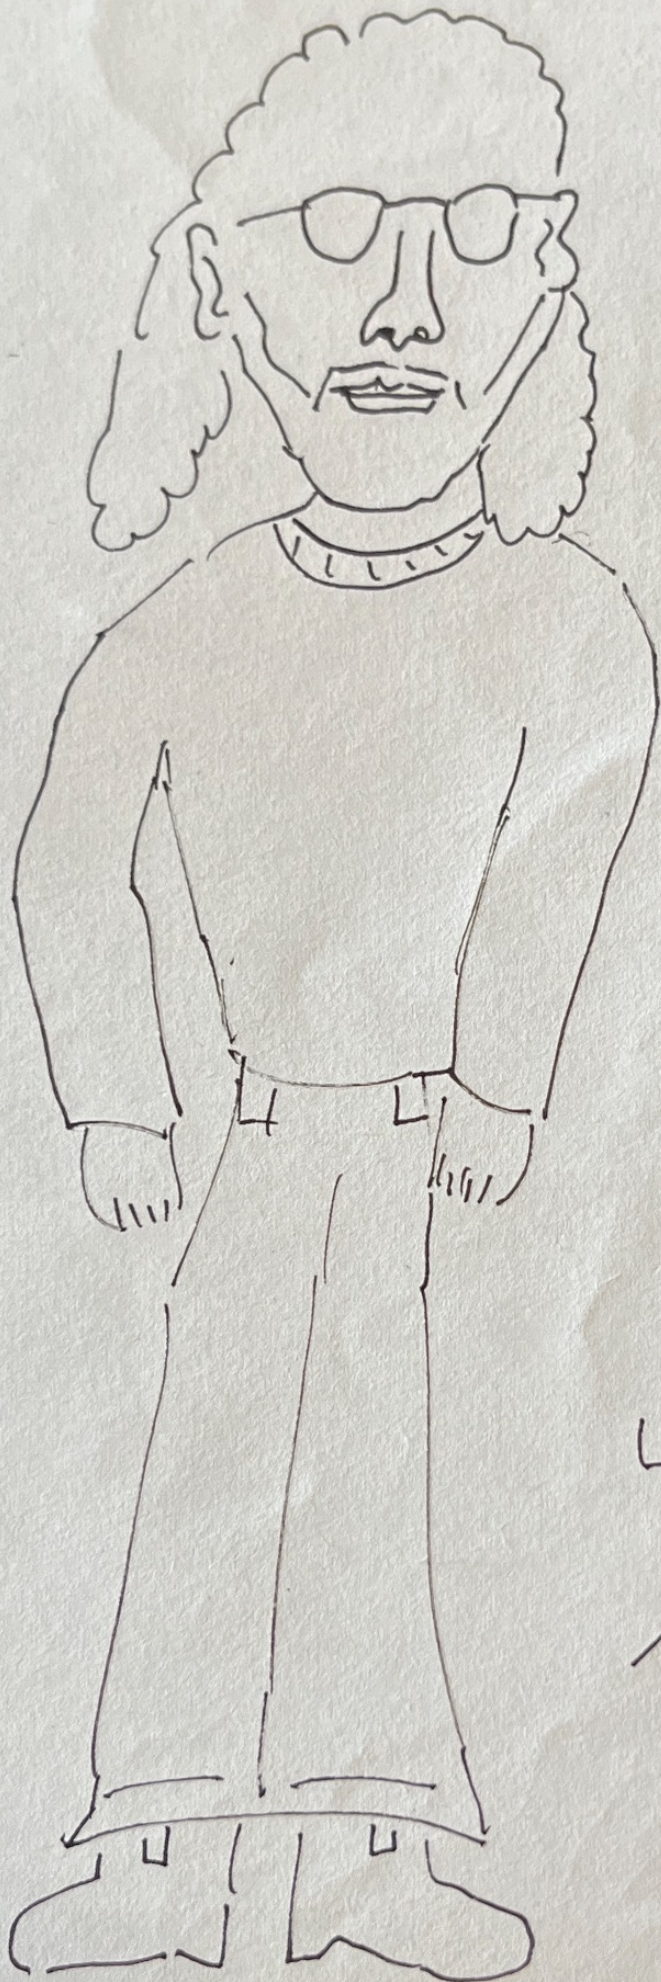

Who is my Sid Really ?

Is he just a dream ? A phantasma ?

Well, we will never know, But we know his life (human) story. Well to begin with, he was born in New Jersey in 1948. A Post War baby. He lived in NY city, the Bronx as a child. Moved to LA and spent his young years growing up.

His life then was like a vagabond - college - military - Vietnam War - Depression in the US. Lived in Israel. Got married - Got teaching credentials in Special Education and Art. Got a BA in fine arts. Had two children and separated from his wife later moved to Thailand - had a girl friend there.

He's ~~Not~~ just a hippie, or was But if he was, he would be for Love, Freedom, marijuana, LSD ^{maybe}

and I think

I need to move back to

Thailand. I think now
I was happier there.
I think

THAILAND is better for me now.

But - I'm hesitant about that - going back

I know that country - Thailand -

has many problems

Corruption everywhere. Dangers on the road

- poverty - air borne diseases - pollution - chaotic corrupt political system for example - I can't speak Thai almost

The Food - agriculture are still using Toxic chemicals - Though that may change.

What's There for Me

Love

Buddhism
(Theravada)

Nature Abounds - which I like rice fields - rolling mountains - the sea.

I was living in Bangkok - A large sprawling city, millions of people living there. The number 1 tourist city in the world.

But millions of cars and motorcycles - such a crowded city. Pollution there is dangerous and even life threatening.

But... It is a world class city too.
A lot of condos and places to live that are not too expensive. LIFE there in general can be inexpensive.

So many restaurants and Shopping Malls, Movie Theater's and temples to visit. (Unbelievable Beautiful
Temples
everywhere)

The transportation for me - taxis - are relatively cheap too, and of course they have a new modern train transportation city - that makes moving into the heart of the city - Relatively easy (But the trains can get very crowded too) That's in Bangkok for now.

Thailand is expanding its train system too - making transportation easier for commuters - Downtown area - and soon across the country.

I'd like to live in two places - be an artist - have some good friends - have my family living a secure life. See my children - and be able to live a healthy life - free of problems -

Be Content - and continue to explore Buddhism - which is my main preoccupation these days.

I want to have Love too - to be close to some nice woman who Loves me and I can express my Love for her too.

I'm getting old - 70's now - so time is moving to the end of this life for me. I hope I can find a good solution and one that everyone can live with.
me - my family - my girlfriend(s)? in Thailand - The Buddha - ancestors too.

I don't have a

Not sure.

I don't have too
